

Free Poem #1 - It's Always Sunny in Boston

An hour away,
Lies the old city
With endless possibility,
And a smile to greet me
I welcome the busy drive
And I keep in mind,
The serenity I find
When I'm with mine

We wander the North End
With no destination in mind,
The adventures we find are benign

And when the sky cries,
We don't mind
Together, our endless possibilities shine

Free Poem #2 - Simon Pond

The breeze embraces me
As I photosynthesize,
The dock rocks
And the lake claps
A homecoming.

This land has seen my growth,
A playful child unsure of the depths
Now one willing to dive in
The cruel touch is timeless
This is my original form
To bask with the sunfish,
To wail like the loons,

For this moment, my growth wanes
I embrace the resurrected youth
I'll always be home amongst the pond.
