

Topic

- This project highlights how rising temperatures in Maine affect coastal communities represented in the 21st century creative nonfiction in essay format.

Approach

- An essay

Purpose

- To show the effects of 21st century creative nonfiction that writes about coastal communities.

Significance

- Leaving the earth better than you found it.

What works

- I enjoy hearing your voice in this essay, I think it's always nice to hear a little bit of personability.

Questions

- It would be nice to hear how the community is reacting and how their perspectives may be changing.
