

Here is the last rendition of the first set of Tree Identification Cards. This evidence includes new isolated examples of mature and immature tree species and reorganised descriptions to achieve the most visually pleasing design.