Dear Mr. Miller:

Subject: Application for Camp Counsel

This letter focuses on my interest in camp counseling and my preparedness in relation to the openings as counselors for Freeport Recreation.

I have been in a kid's camp environment my whole life. I grew up going to camp, worked as a volunteer counselor, been a head counselor at basketball kid camps, and have done babysitting to help with surrounding neighbors.

I've worked for Saco Parks and Rec and have been trained on the camper health and safety protocols and I also have CPR certification. I'm reliable in fight or flight situations as I've had to perform CPR during another past job as a lifeguard. From being an athlete throughout high school and college I've learned leadership skills to demonstrate to the other counselors and kiddos. I'm also a trained communicator as I've aced 3 different communications courses throughout my time in college.

To construct myself to be the role model/counselor for the kids, I've spent hours volunteering at kid basketball events and camps, taken courses to improve my understanding of kid psychology and communications, and I have an innate ability to make kids chuckle. I believe my strong communication skills, charisma, integrity, and ability to lead would make me the perfect applicant for your opening.

I can be reached by the attached email address and phone number provided below. My resume is enclosed. I'd love to set up an interview at your earliest convenience. I'm looking forward to hearing back.

Yours sincerely,

Jack Pyzynski
